

Who Is Marlon Smith?

The "High-Tech Motivator"

Marlon Smith is a young man who is on a mission. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Virginia. As a college student, Marlon's proudest moment came when he founded Street Academics, a high school outreach program. His corporate experience includes working at two fortune-500 corporations, IBM and Hewlett-Packard. Today, he is utilizing his engineering training by developing innovative, multimedia presentations that incorporate video, comedy, music and computer technology. And because of this, Marlon is recognized as the "High-Tech Motivator."

The International Consultant

Following his heart, Marlon resigned from Hewlett-Packard on January 15, 1992 to begin Success By Choice. Today, Marlon can be found empowering our global society by helping individuals maximize their true potential. He has been blessed with an opportunity to inspire, entertain and motivate thousands of individuals in 45 states including Alaska. And because his message is so timely, he has traveled abroad on numerous speaking tours throughout the former Soviet Union (in Moscow, Gorney-Altay, Kazakhstan), Canada, Mexico, Japan, England, the Caribbean, Botswana, LeSotho, Ghana, Swaziland, and South Africa.

The Author

Marlon believes true change is a process and not a one time shot. Consequently, he maintains that it is not enough to give a motivational presentation without any follow-through reinforcement. Committed to helping individuals create everlasting change, he has developed a powerful curriculum consisting of motivational workbooks, instructional videotapes and lesson plans for teachers, parents and mentors. His most popular book, "What's Up? – A Solution Guide For Today's Young People," is having a tremendous impact upon young people all over the world. Marlon's work is also included in the best selling book, "A Second Helping of Chicken Soup For The Soul."

The Mentor

Marlon believes in taking the time to truly connect with people. Everyday, Marlon communicates with people through www.successbychoice.com that receives hundreds of hits daily. Through this medium, Marlon shares important information with individuals all over the world.
